

These are the steps we as architects take to create a building project. A great deal of planning goes into successful designs before construction ever begins.

The Design Process

Not all of these phases apply to every project. Many will have fewer steps, while others may skip around or repeat phases.

HOW WE GET FROM CONCEPT TO PROJECT

